For VC and equity-backed startups, a solid, scalable IT infrastructure is critical. Early stages of growth are a crucial time. With key personnel focused on product and staff development, there is often little time for IT oversight.

Enterprise GrowthPath from Sandbox Technologies exists to meet the intense demands of burgeoning enterprises. EGP's signature approach delivers security and performance, at an impressive ROI when compared to the cost of internal staffing.

EGP's professionals possess a wealth of experience in various IT disciplines. EGP team members include:

Preparing for an IPO or M&A transactions demands strict attention to security, governance and enterprise risk management. Meeting the demands of today's audit committees requires robust reporting capabilities and systems that meet stringent reporting requirements.

The role of people should never be understated. EGP takes the development of IT staff and the creation of departmental culture very seriously. Much of what differentiates EGP from other firms can be found in its mission statement; "Empowering enterprise by building best practice infrastructures and teams." Where EGP seeks to support the development of, and eventual transition to an internal IT staff.
